'WRECKED MY HOME!' ---MAN SHOOTS HEIRESS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 20—Shot down in a dramatic street scene, Mrs. Erita McCormick Krueger, wealthy Chicago socialite wife of Karl Krueger, internationally famous orchestra conductor, was near death today.

Charles E. McDonald, estranged husband of Mrs. Frances McDonald, a governess in the Krueger home, surrendered to police.

He mistakenly believed, police said, that Mrs. Krueger had advised Mrs. McDonald to divorce him.

Mrs. Krueger, 33-year-old great granddaughter of Robert McCormick, inventor of the reaper and founder of the multi-millionaire Chicago family, was wounded in the side, leg and arm.

CROWD SEES SHOOTING

McDonald, police said, drove his car alongside Mrs. Krueger's automobile in busy Hollywood boulevard, where she was waiting for her daughter who was attending dancing school.

When Mrs. Krueger saw him, she jumped out of the car and started to run across the sidewalk. McDonald, witnesses told authorities, fired one shot and she dropped to the sidewalk. He then stood over her, police alleged, and fired two more shots.

Several hours later he surrendered to his lawyer, William Bronsten, who turned him over to police.

250,000 Watch Legion March

By JAMES F. McENANEY

WORCESTER, Aug. 20—One-quarter of a million persons thronged Worcester today to watch the greatest parade spectacle in the 20-year history of the American Legion in Massachusetts.

Hughes Hop Tests New Air Masks

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—Howard Hughes landed at Floyd Bennett airport at 5:56 a. m. (Boston time) today after a high-altitude flight from Los Angeles undertaken to test a new type oxygen mask.

His elapsed time for the trip, on which he did not attempt to set a speed mark, was 19 hours, 34 minutes. He set a trans-continental record of 7 hours, 28 minutes and 25 seconds in January, 1937.

Glenn Odekirk, Hughes' airplane company superintendent; Harry Connor, chief navigator on Hughes' round-the-world flight, and Charles Perrine, radio expert, were with him. All wore two-ounce gum and rubber masks which were fed through rubber tubes leading from a single cylinder, the oxygen being thrice purified.

From all directions they came, in holiday spirits, jamming the streets as they waited for the huge procession which will climax the Legion's state convention. Legionnaires predicted the parade would exceed any ever staged at a state convocation.

More than 15,000 Legion members, national guards, naval reserves and soldiers of the regular army will form the procession, of such size that it will be four hours in passing a single point along the way of march on Main street.

More than 400 police officers were on duty for the parade with two companies of National Guardsmen held on duty for any emergency on request of Police Chief Patrick Foley.

members of Newton Post No. 48, winners of the public achievement award during the year just ended.

Leverett Saltonstall, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, will march with his brother Newton Legionnaires.

GOVERNOR IN LINE

Governor Hurley will take his place in line with Cambridge Post No. 27. Another gubernatorial candidate, Richard Whitcomb of Springfield, will be seen with his post from that city.

Opposing all possible efforts of any other candidates to take political advantage, department officers ruled that only those who belong to the Legion will be permitted to march. No outsiders were invited to take part.

John L. Maguire of Watertown was predicted probable winner in the election for Massachusetts department commander, to be held shortly before the start of the parade. His opponent was Ralph H. Lavers of Southbridge, General Clarence Edwards' chauffeur during the war.

ERROR IN NAME

A mistake on the ballot was quickly settled by the election committee when Archie McClellan of Cohasset, candidate for state adjutant, protested his name appeared as "McLean."

The committee ruled that votes cast for "McLean" would be credited to him, and balloting was resumed at once.

Renewal of the Massachusetts Legion's war against Communism was expected during this morning's business session, when numerous resolutions were to come before the convention.

Concentrated efforts of poets throughout the state against the Nazi "bund" movement were also urged by delegates drawing up another resolution. Taunton was chosen as the 1939 convention city.

Legion officers and police joined forces to try to curb groups of non-Legionnaires who caused many minor accidents and disturbances during the night. More than 20 persons were injured by exploding firecrackers and bags of water dropped from buildings.

A pledge to work for a new veterans' hospital and better facilities at the hospitals at Northampton, Rutland and Bedford was made today by Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers, who addressed the legionnaires in the Worcester auditorium. She highly praised the veterans for their service to their nation.

3 Held in Child Film Bunko

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 20 (AP)—Two officers of the National Talent Pictures Corp., and the wife of one of them were held on charges of grand theft and bunko today while police questioned mothers of would-be child screen stars brought here as winners of contests in various parts of the country.

Lieut. Merle B. Swan of the Los Angeles police central bureau squad led 25 officers in a raid on the colossally studio of the corporation yesterday. He said it appeared operations of the concern had extended to every state and into Canada.

At least $100,000 in franchises for local dancing schools, costumes and other fets apparently was involved, Lieut. Swan added.

Held under $500 bonds each for arraignment August 26 were Ira C. Overdorff, 55, president of the corporation; his wife, Myrtle, 53, and Eddie Rose, 32, vice-president of the concern and publisher of a house organ.

A fourth asserted member of the organization, W. A. Garabrandt, identified as salesman was named in a warrant sworn to by Mrs. Harry L. Gross of Wichita Falls, Texas, representative of a dance studio. She had come here with her 10-year-old daughter, Coken, winner of a Wichita Falls talent contest.

Mrs. Gross and Mrs. John G. Moore of Salinas, Calif., who brought her two daughters to the Talent studio here after they had won a contest at Salinas, told Lieutenant Swan that Overdorff claimed their studios had not paid a $250 fee for their franchises.

Swan said scores of mothers have come here in the last few weeks with child winners of talent contests, but the promised roles did not materialize.

Babs Swims With Her Count

VENICE, Aug. 20 (AP)—Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow and his wife, the former Barbara Hutton, went swimming together today at the Lido, with no apparent signs that bitterness had lingered from the court battle six weeks ago that ended in their legal separation.

Speculation over a possible reconciliation between the Woolworth heiress and her second titled husband increased as the Count again prolonged his stay here and an apparently friendly attitude was observed between them.

The Count, after postponing his departure a second time, joined his wife on the beach. Both were accompanied by friends and, after swimming, all went to a bar for snacks.

Cousins Barbara were a bright yellow bathing suit and her husband wore black trunks.

Catholic Action Hits Third Term

By an overwhelming vote, 560 men and women at the Summer School for Catholic Action today opposed a third term for President Roosevelt.

Disapproval of the New Deal for four more years under any other leader was also voted and the group went on record against the CIO.

Hub V. of F. W. Off for Parley

More than 500 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and 300 women of the auxiliary left South Station for the national convention at Columbus, O., today, determined to obtain the 1939 convention for Boston.

The delegation, headed by State Department Commander Harry Holmes, will attend sessions from August 21 to 26.

Governor Hurley and Mayor Tobin will also urge Boston as the convention city. The two executives will fly to Columbus to speak before the delegates early next week.

Hunt 'Angler Fish' in Harbor

Fishing enthusiasts flocked to Commonwealth Pier today for a try at the monster which pulled Frank Makonis, 27, of Chestnut street, Chelsea, right off the dock and into the harbor.

Makonis, fishing at the dock's edge, dazed. Suddenly, a mighty monster gulped the bait and darted off, pulling the sleepy fisherman with it.

The victim's cries were heard by John Spray of West Second street, South Boston, who tossed a life preserver to him. South Boston police fished him out.

Roslindale Painter Badly Hurt in Fall

Al J. Jensen, 28 of Cummins highway, Roslindale, plunged four stories today from a painter's staging in West Newton street, South End.

He was rushed to City Hospital in a critical condition.

After the Ball--Headaches!

Arrests Pep Up Art Revel

PROVINCETOWN, Aug. 20—Some had headaches, a few had heartaches and virtually everybody had mosquito bites today as the annual costume ball of the Provincetown Art Association went into history.

But Town Crier Amos Kubik summed it up.

"Those artists and their girl friends," he said, "can wear fewer clothes and have more fun than most anybody else, this side of the Cannibal Islands."

At least six of today's headaches were a matter of record, since their luckless owners were in the village lockup, charged with—to put it delicately—Inebriety.

But they were exceptions, for

Slave Girl's Retort

PROVINCETOWN, Aug. 20—Shocked at the scantiness of a "slave girl" costume, worn at the Artists' ball here by blond and pretty Valmar Oleska of Boston, a matronly onlooker voiced her indignation.

"You nasty girl! Go home and put some clothes on!" she said.

Miss Oleska, unperturbed, retorted smilingly: "My costume would be awful on you, madame, but on me it's lovely."

Ball, Pronounced Bawl

FUSS AND FEVER—A slap direct against the dignity of an ancient job was seen when Patricia Van Deree appeared at the Provincetown artists' ball as the daughter of the town crier. Bitterly, the town crier saw his honor assailed. He's not married.

Margaret Rose Has Own Day

BALMORAL, Scotland, Aug. 20 (AP)—Tomorrow will be a big day for a little girl who lives in the reflected glory of an older sister.

The little girl is Princess Margaret Rose, whose sister, Princess Elizabeth, some day may be Queen of England, and the big day is her eighth birthday.

But even on her birthday she will not hold the spotlight alone. She will have to share honors with her cousin, Lord Gerald Lascelles, who will be 14.

Margaret Rose's mother, Queen Elizabeth, will postpone the birthday party until Monday but the little princess will be allowed to see the gifts from her father, King George VI and Uncle David, the Duke of Windsor.

The King was expected to continue his custom of adding a pearl or two to the graduated necklace that will be complete when his daughter reaches 21.

most of those who attended the gala party, which was the social climax of the summer season here, were feeling chipper as ever today, after a plunge in the crystal-clear water of the harbor.

How many heartaches there were had to be guessed. They must have been suffered principally by the gals who learned by sad experience that they looked less alluring in fishnet and sea shells than in more formal evening attire.

MOSQUITO BANQUET

Universal occupation here today, however, was that of scratching mosquito bites.

The "costume" ball, colorfully conspicuous for its lack of costume, was a thanksgiving feast for Cape Cod's whole mosquito clan.

Town Crier Kubik took a vote today, however, and announced that unanimous public opinion held the party to have been the most successful in a decade.

Grace Goveia of Provincetown was proud possessor of first prize for most artistic costume. She was attired as a "gypsy vendor."

Maia Duncan, a niece of the late Isadora Duncan, won honorable mention with her dancing-girl costume.

BUT NICE—Turmoil at the artists' ball rose to fever pitch when Valmar Oleska showed up as a slave girl . . . and an old lady bawled her out as "nasty" and told her to go home and get some clothes on. She stayed.

One Killed, 5 Hurt In R. I. Car Crash

NORTH SMITHFIELD, R. I., Aug. 20 (AP)—One man was killed and two other men and three women injured today when their car overturned and went off the Douglas pike near a grade crossing. The dead man, reported by police as driver of the car, was identified as George B. Bray of Pawtucket.

GYPSY EYE-FILLER—Adding to the pure beauty of the Provincetown artists' ball was Maia Duncan of New York, who took bows as a dancing girl. She's "news" because no one raised a rumpus over her costume.

Trial Reveals 'Pool' Secrets

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—A picture of Dutch Schultz as a vicious, profane, gun-toting racket boss was left today with the jury in the trial of Tammany district leader, Jimmy Hines.

Still appearing affable after the first week of listening to charges that he served as political guardian angel for Schultz's $100,000,000 policy syndicate, Hines left the courtroom grinning yesterday as the trial was recessed for the week-end.

The last witness of the week, Alexander Pompey, one-time policy king in Harlem, had just testified that the Schultz mobsters contributed thousands of dollars in tainted racket money to election campaigns in 1936.

It was Pompey, now guarded day and night by a squad of four detectives, who said he had felt the lash of the Dutchman's venomous tongue, had seen the tough-talking gangster draw a murderous gun out of his jacket.

CIGARS TO RACKET

Now 48 years old, prosperously dressed and gray-haired, Pompey entered the numbers business as a banker in 1930 after operating a Harlem cigar store 18 years, he said.

In 1932, he testified, henchmen of Schultz demanded that he pay "protection" money to the Dutchman. Finally, after the henchmen took him in a bullet-proof car, "heavy as a truck," to see Schultz and the gangster warned him he would be "the first nigger I am going to make an example in Harlem," he capitulated.

He reluctantly accepted a proposition that Dutch take over the bank and pay him (Pompey) $250 a week and 40 per cent of the profits.

Pompey's testimony concluded a drama-packed week in which—

Youthful District Attorney Dewey —A potential Republican gubernatorial candidate if he wins—accused the politically potent Hines of going on the Schultz payroll at $500 to $1000 a week as a "fixer."

Lloyd Paul Stryker, chief counsel for the defense, termed the fixing charge against the 61-year-old Democratic boss a "diabolical falsehood."

CITES "DISCUSSION"

George Weinberg, confessed henchman of Schultz, pointed out Hines as the man who met with him, Schultz and "Bo" Weinberg to discuss protecting the racket, and then was forced by Stryker to admit he had lied at a 1932 federal court trial.

Julius (Red) Williams, South Carolina Negro, who became an election captain in Hines' West Harlem district, repudiated grand jury testimony linking Hines to Weinberg and was recommended to jail as a material witness.

"Big Joe" Leon, former Harlem policy banker, testified he was told a $125 expense item deducted from his profits each week was "going to Jimmy Hines' club" and that $5000 in two other deductions was to help elect "a Democratic mayor and a Democratic district attorney."

Asked his opinion at the end of the week, Stryker said:

"I am very pleased."

Dewey, following his rule, made no comment.

2 Hurt in Turnpike Three-car Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Noyes of Parkinson road, Needham, were under treatment today for injuries received in a three-car crash on the Worcester turnpike which held up traffic more than an hour.

Soon after a New York automobile jumped the center reservation and struck the Noyes machine, a third car operated by a Pennsylvania motorist plowed into the wreckage.

Rockland Man Held as Firebug In Two States

BROCKTON, Aug. 20—Charged with setting more than a dozen fires with a total loss of $50,000 "just for the thrill," Joseph De Cota, a 25-year-old carnival roustabout, was scheduled to be arraigned in district court today, accused of arson.

Police declare De Cota, a native of Rockland, confessed to touching off fires in Massachusetts and Vermont, and to have made a practice of turning in false alarms in Boston "just to hear the fire engines."

In the burning of farm buildings at Easton, which the man allegedly started, 14 head of blooded cattle were trapped by the flames and cooked alive.

Answering an alarm at a fire which destroyed an icehouse at Avon last May, Acting Fire Marshal George O. Mansfield was drenched by a fire hose, contracted pneumonia and died a few days later. Police declare De Cota also has confessed to setting the Avon blaze.

The alleged confession is also said to include the admission of sounding between 60 and 100 false alarms in Boston. When the fire companies responded to the alarm De Cota is said to have mingled with the crowds, getting a kick out of the firemen's effort to locate a blaze.

Hull Shakes Up Department

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (INS)—Secretary Hull today completed a sweeping shakeup in the State Department with establishment of an international communications division under Administrative Assistant Secretary George S. Messersmith.

The division will have charge of the department's "program of activities involved in the international aspects of aviation, radio, motion pictures, telegraph, cable and shipping," in addition to maintaining of liaison with other departments, Hull announced.

Yes Sir! That's NOT My Baby

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 20 (AP)—Mona Barrie, Australian film actress, in busy receiving congratulations and presents for a baby she didn't have.

"It's all very confusing," she said, exhibiting a pair of beatecs that came in the morning mail, a gift from a fan.

"I really haven't a baby at all," she said, sifting through a stack of congratulatory cables and wires.

The explanation: A boy was born to Phil Berle, actor's agent, and his wife, the former Mona Barry.

Members of a Roxbury barbers' "association," accused of hiring racketeers to toss a stench bomb in a Blue Hill avenue shop, were traced by police today.

Harry Bradbury, proprietor of the barber shop, stated the bomb was hurled because he refused to join the association or maintain the schedule of hours demanded by it.

Board Condemned In Teacher Ouster

The Carver School Board today was condemned for "its arbitrary behavior in unwarrantedly dismissing" Miss Florence Kaski, by the American Federation of Teachers, in convention at Cedar Point, O.

Miss Helen Carleton of Greene, Me., was commended for her refusal to accept the post of the dismissed teacher.

College Reds In Dies Probe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20

—The House committee studying un-American activities announced today it would produce evidence that Communism "permeates" some eastern colleges and universities.

Chairman Dies said three prospective witnesses are teachers, and added that they "will demonstrate how prevalent Communism is in these schools, and it's plenty."

The witnesses will be brought before the committee next week by Representative Thomas (R.) of New Jersey, who investigated subversive activities, particularly in New York City, before hearings began a week ago.

The committee also planned to expose innermost secrets of the Communist party by calling as a witness a man said to have aided in formation of the party in the United States.

Identity of the witness was closely guarded by the committee, but members insisted he would give first-hand information of the organization of the party, and tell of its aims.

The committee called for further testimony today concerning charges that Communists control some activities of the Federal Theater project in New York City. Thomas said one of the informants was a man "who knows all the inside stuff" about the Communist party in the United States.

Mrs. Hazel Huffman, a former WPA under-cover worker who said she represented about 900 actors determined to keep all subversive elements out of the Federal Theater, testified yesterday that employees in the New York City Federal Theater were forced to join Communist organizations.

Criticism of evidence the committee heard in earlier sessions came from the Committee for Industrial Organization and Harry Bridges, Western director for the CIO.

The CIO news termed the appearance of John P. Frey, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, a "farcical performance" inspiring nothing more than a "large and hearty yawn."

Frey testified that Communists were working through the CIO and listed some alleged Communist active in the labor group. Bridges, against whom deportation proceedings are pending, charged the committee with "red-baiting." He said at Los Angeles that he was "not afraid" of testimony that he was a Communist.

Committee to Meet Here, Healey Predicts

Predicting that the Dies House committee investigating un-American activities in this country probably would hold sessions in Boston, Congressman Arthur D. Healey was here today from Washington.

He denied that his return to Boston was to be construed as "walking out" on the committee of which he is a member. The report of friction between other members and himself, he said, may have arisen from a suggestion that the body "move cautiously."

"I merely suggested that witnesses first testify in executive session, presenting documentary proof of their statements. I don't want to see the names of people dragged in on just hearsay evidence," he said.

The Congressman said he will rejoin the committee.

Religious School Meets Tomorrow

DURHAM, N. H., Aug. 20—The New England School of Religious Education will open its annual session at the University of New Hampshire tomorrow.

A registration of more than 400, from 13 states and foreign countries and representing eight denominations, is the largest in the school's history.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (INS)—Jurors in the trial of Tammany Chief James J. Hines are rapidly learning a new language—the language of the policy game—as the trial goes on.

Some of the terms which have come up thus far and their definitions are as follows:

"Runner" or "collector"—the minor policy agent who collects the slips on which bettors write the numbers they want to play.

"Stop"—A store, flat or other station where the runner turns the slips over to another agent known as a "pickup."

"Pickup"—A step higher in the policy scale than the "runner." He takes the slips—also known as "stuff"—from runners and delivers them to another station known as a "drop."

"Drop"—Usually a tenement room rented for one day only. "Drops" are changed every day.

"Controller"—This agent collects the slips from "Drop" stations. "Banker's Drop"—Here the "controller" leaves the slips.

"Bank" or "headquarters"—The quarters where all angles of the policy game tie in. There are clerks here to check returns, tabulating machines and other persons and things essential to the operation of the policy game.

11 Leave Ship, Wade Ashore

HAMPTON, N. H., Aug. 20—Eleven persons, six of them women, waded a quarter-mile to safety today when the 40-foot pleasure boat Three Sisters ran aground on a sand bar at the entrance to Hampton harbor.

The group, which left shortly before midnight on a moonlight sail, jumped overboard and waded the long distance waist-deep in the surf.

Two other men passengers stayed with Captain Bill Dew until Coast Guardsmen from the Isle of Shoals station arrived to pull the Three Sisters free.

Austrian Jews Swarm on Swiss

BERLIN, Aug. 20 (AP)—More than 1000 Austrian Jews, it was estimated today, have been smuggled into Switzerland the past month by the modern versions of the Scarlet Pimpernel and the underground railway.

Three hundred Swiss frontier guards are trying to cope with the problem and all available police in the northern Swiss cantons have been mobilized to help. France reinforced her guards at border points, Germans, too, promised increased vigilance.

The migration has been helped by a secret organization of Germans and Austrians who, with earlier fugitives, supplied money and shelter for fugitives on the way to the borders, much as Negro slaves were aided secretly to reach the Canadian frontier by the underground railway in American Civil War days.

FEAR FOR FUTURE

Jews, fearing for their future under the Nazi regime, frequently are willing to take desperate chances to get away. Immigration from Germany has become increasingly difficult as a result of international border regulations.

The "underground" border traffic is particularly active near the Swiss town of Diepoldsau, whose limits extend five miles along the former Austrian border. Jewish men and women, young and old and in every walk of life, have found this area suitable for fleeing Germany. Crossing the frontier is much more difficult in other places, where the Rhine forms a natural boundary.

At Diepoldsau the Rhine lies within Swiss territory and, besides good opportunities for concealment are found in thick groves that guards can patrol only with difficulty.

Small groups of three or four Jews at first began entering Switzerland illegally. Then there were 20 to 50 in a band. When 45 successfully entered Wednesday night, the Swiss acted to increase the guards.

Some Jews have crossed the line by jumping from trains which barely crawl along the border near Buchs. Only a few have valid travel papers. Some have birth certificates only.

Although the Swiss have taken measures to stop illegal entry those who have succeeded hitherto in crossing the frontier are being permitted to remain temporarily.

Jews in Austria Denied Sugar

BERLIN, Aug. 20 (AP)—Sugar probably will be a thing of the past soon for Austrian Jewish bakers, candy factories and dealers in sugar.

By order of the commissioner in charge of the sugar industry in German Austria, Jewish firms dealing in sugar and "using sugar in their establishments for manufacturing purposes" will not be supplied with it after August 25. Presumably this also will affect Jewish coffee houses.

$140,000 Yacht Raised From Sea

NANTUCKET, Aug. 20—Workmen beached the 65-foot luxury yacht Intrepid III in Nantucket harbor today after successfully raising the cruiser from 35 feet of water, three miles off shore, where she sank August 7.

The cruiser, valued at $140,000, was salvaged by John R. Esmond of Chicago after its owner and insurance company abandoned it as lost.

Leaping Burglars Get $600 in Raid

Gaining entrance by leaping a roof and climbing through a skylight, safe crackers today looted the Henry Goldberg & Company office, Hanover street, North End, of $400 worth of old gold and $200 in cash.

Rome to Purge Jewish Scribes

ROME, Aug. 20 (AP)—Informed Fascist quarters said today a campaign had been begun to oust Jews and Jewish interests from Italian journalism.

Two big newspapers possessing Jewish capital were said to have changed hands within the past few days. It was reported the Jewish editor of Il Corriere Adriatico had been replaced.

Fascists said a complete "purge" of newspapers probably would follow as part of the party's new race policy, one slogan of which is "no Jews as public servants and one Jew per thousand Italians in national life."

Nazis Oust British Aide as Spy

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Captain Thomas Kendrick, veteran British passport officer mysteriously seized four days ago by German secret police, was ordered out of Germany today because of what an official German statement called "proof" of his conducting espionage.

The Berlin announcement stating the British ambassador, Sir Neville Henderson, has been requested to see that Captain Kendrick leaves Vienna at the earliest possible moment, coincided with a terse British official announcement that he had been released from custody.

He had been held at the Hotel Metropole in Vienna, Gestapo headquarters, where the former Austrian chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg also was believed held.

British spokesmen declared the nature of the accusation against Kendrick had not been communicated to the British government.

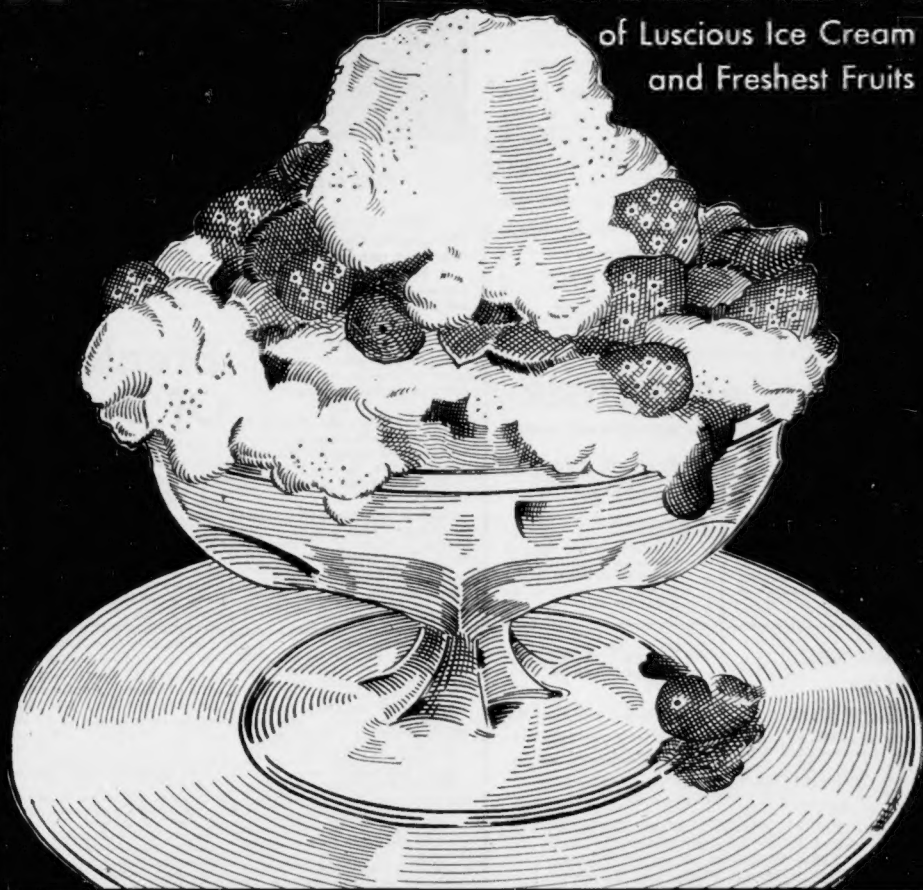

Kendrick was passport officer in Vienna for 13 years and had been called upon to grant hundreds of British visas for Jewish refugees since the annexation of Austria by Germany.

The British government officially informed Germany yesterday that a "serious view" was taken of the incident.

Lyons' Subway Plan Lauded

Cambridge business men today jubilantly hailed the plan of Mayor John W. Lyons to extend the Boston Elevated subway from Harvard square to the North Cambridge car barns—"without cost to Cambridge taxpayers."

The Lyons plan, which would be rushed through at a cost of $5,000,000, was unexpectedly laid before a special meeting of the Cambridge City Council and referred to the committee on finance.

Under its provisions, the old "pill box" station in Harvard square would be removed, as well as all the hazardous traffic islands along Massachusetts avenue. The latter thoroughfare would be reconstructed into two wide lanes with a reservation in the center.

The mayor asked the council for permission to apply for an outright Public Works Administration grant of $2,182,500 to finance 45 per cent of the cost.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation would be asked for a loan of the remaining 55 per cent, or $2,867,500. This latter sum would be repaid through the annual rental paid by the Boston Elevated for the use of the subways. This amount was cited by the mayor as $120,037 yearly.

Work for 2450 men for 16 months also was given by the chief executive as still another benefit to the city through approval of his plan.

Mayor Lyons laid engineers' plans before the council showing a subway which would extend an additional two miles, with underground stations at Linnaean street, Day street and at the new terminus in North Cambridge, thus adding three stops to the Boston Elevated system.

Among the benefits cited were a relief of traffic congestion at Harvard square, increased property values and removal of noisy surface cars along Massachusetts avenue.

Under the plan, the Elevated would continue to pay the same annual rental and this sum would be assigned to the RFC in full payment of the city of Cambridge's obligation.

Bury Love-Mad Suitor's Victim

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (INS)—Marie Joyce, 25, who spurned marriage and paid with her life, will go to her grave today as detectives renew questioning of her former fiancé, who admitted he killed her in a quarrel.

John Bellinger, the young advertising man who fired a bullet into Miss Joyce's back because she refused to renew the engagement she broke off several weeks ago, is under guard. He will be given a hearing September 2.

Police fear he will try to kill himself. They admitted he had secreted two razor blades in his clothing before he went to a priest, confessed his crime, and then took the priest's advice to surrender. He now pleads to be allowed to die in the electric chair.

McKellar Favors Tax Cut--But How?

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (INS)—On a cruise to South America, Sen. Kenneth D. McKellar (D., Tennessee), today left behind the expressed belief that Congress should think more about "lessening taxes."

He did not, however, suggest how.

What, No Stateroom?

JOSEPH CHARLTON AND WIFE
They'll Long Remember N. Y. Visit

NEW YORK, Aug. 20—Ladies and gentlemen, meet Mr. Joseph Charlton of the San Marcos, Cal., Charltons—a most unusual person.

When Charlton says a thing he means it; his orders are to be obeyed; his ultimatums are of the ultra-ultimate sort.

Which leads by a slightly roundabout way to the fact that Mr. Charlton was still in New York today instead of in Providence, R. I., as he had planned.

Why?

Merely because the west coast visitor considered sleeping accommodations more important than the trip. His idea was that the trip could wait but that he must have his sleep.

Charlton and his wife boarded the sterner Comet last night, expecting to obtain a stateroom on board. There were none left.

"Stop the boat," Charlton thundered. "Get a launch, a plane, anything to get us ashore. The Charltons get a stateroom or they don't ride."

His commands went unheeded. So what happened?

Charlton removed his hat, coat and shoes as the vessel was passing through Hell Gate channel. "You can't go ashore now," a ship's officer remarked, testily.

"The Hell I can't," answered Charlton, taking a squint at the Hell Gate channel. "He ran to the rail, shouting, 'Come on, Claire,' and over he went."

Mrs. Charlton started to follow but was held back by sailors. Charlton was swimming briskly under the Triborough bridge when he got a lift from a passing motor boat.

The ship captain, a little confused by all this, ordered the Comet pulled up at North Brother Island where he let Mrs. Charlton off.

Charlton, 31, a petroleum engineer, was landed from the motor boat at 90th street.

Mrs. Charlton was taken to 90th street and deposited along side her husband. They returned to their hotel room feeling fine.

2 More Glove Gang Bandits Hunted

With the leader killed and his alleged first lieutenant held in $54,000 bail, police today sought two other members of the "suede glove gang," now blamed for three hotel robberies and a long series of other baffling crimes.

The leader, James Sullivan, 25, of Dorchester, today in death was identified as head of the mob which robbed the Hotel Hemmeway, Myles Standish Hotel and Longwood Towers.

Sullivan died of wounds suffered in a losing gun battle with police after the $5596 payroll robbery on Vassar street, Cambridge, which drew the biggest police chase in Greater Boston police annals.

Harold Ananian, 27, of Roxbury, his alleged lieutenant, today was held in $54,000 bail after arraignment on five charges, including attempted murder of Patrolman Scholley Lake of the Brighton police.

Hotel employees and gasoline station attendants today linked two other men, well known to police, as connected with the mob on earlier forays.

Police declared that the Sullivan mob had switched from suede gloves to rubber gloves in the big Cambridge holdup and that Sullivan still wore his gloves when shot down.

How near police had been to their quarry for the hotel jobs was evidenced in the fact that Sullivan had been picked up for questioning in connection with them at the time he wounded himself several weeks ago in a scuffle with police. He was free in $5000 bail at the time of his death.

Ananian was picked up the same night of Sullivan's arrest but was released in connection with gasoline station holdups.

Sullivan died of two bullet wounds, but a third, that was fired at the time of his earlier arrest, was still in his body, examination at the morgue showed.

Break Near in Death Of Doctor's Wife

LACLEDE, Mo., Aug. 20 (AP)—Col. H. Marvin Casteel, superintendent of the Missouri highway patrol, said he expected a break today in the investigation of the vegetable cellar death of Mrs. Ella LaMance.

He did not elaborate.

Dr. William F. LaMance, the husband, is held on a murder charge. Chemists were expected to report today on tests made of viscera specimens to determine whether poison killed the pretty 29-year-old former nurse.

PREVIOUS SUICIDE ATTEMPT

Lon R. Owen, LaMance's attorney, has expressed confidence the reports would "show poison, which will be convincing proof of suicide."

At Ottawa, Kan., Mrs. R. P. O'Mara, sister of the dead woman, said Mrs. LaMance, dependent, had attempted suicide in 1930, three years before her marriage.

Mrs. LaMance's body was found Monday night on a cot in a vegetable cellar behind her home across the street from General John J. Pershing's birthplace.

Sheriff Max Brown, who discovered the body shortly after the 34-year-old outcrop, only doctor in this north central Missouri town of 650 population, reported his wife missing, said she apparently had been beaten to death about a week before.

DENIES HIS GUILT

Coroner J. H. Lucas reported the only mark of violence was a bruise on the left temple. He said a blood clot under the scalp might have resulted from a blow or a ruptured blood vessel.

LaMance, one-time amateur boxer who quit the ring after losing a bet to his father, the Rev. William LaMance of Colorado, told his mother he was innocent.

"I fear nothing. It seems this had to come, but I am innocent and have spoken the truth," he was quoted by Mrs. Lora LaMance, who teamed with her husband in conducting evangelistic meetings throughout the country.

Sheriff Brown said Mr. LaMance did not report his wife missing until she had been gone several days, explaining she frequently had left him for "two or three days" because of quarrels.

The doctor's mother and a Negro washerwoman testified at an inquest of finding blood on two pillows in the LaMance home. LaMance said he had fallen against a glass door and the blood was from a head wound.

Haverhill Pair O. K'd for Primary

Mayor George W. Dairymeyer of Haverhill and Wilbert F. Bartlett, of the same city, today were approved as legal candidates in the September primary for the Republican nomination for Essex county commissioner.

The State Ballot Law Commission had been called on for a ruling when it was pointed out that Robert M. Mitchell, also of Haverhill, was a member of the commission and that the law provides that not more than one person from a city may serve.

Heiress Denies 'Love' Theft

said McDonald confessed firing the shot.

"Mrs. Krueger broke up my home," Lieut. Whaley quoted McDonald as saying, after admitting that he had followed her from her home in his car.

"She pulled up at the curb and I drew alongside of her. I asked her 'where are my wife and baby?'"

"She got out of the car and said she was going to call police. I pulled out the gun and fired. That's all I remember."

The McDonalds have been involved in a divorce action and fight for custody of their daughter. Mrs. McDonald filed the suit July 22, asserting that her husband threatened to cause trouble to her employers and prevent her continued employment.

ABNORMAL INTEREST

In an answer filed Aug. 5 McDonald alleged that his wife "has permitted herself to be dominated and controlled by a person who has an abnormal interest in her which is in conflict with the plaintiff's (Mrs. McDonald's) obligations as a wife toward this defendant."

After two blood transfusions were given Mrs. Krueger, she rallied and gave police a statement.

"Chuck McDonald is an insanely jealous man," she said. "He was a trouble-maker all the time. I was kind to his wife despite this and I let her live with us as a maid and a companion to me over the objections of Mr. Krueger."

Krueger said McDonald had been a source of trouble for several years.

"Mrs. McDonald left our employ several times but always came back saying she needed the work to support herself and her daughter," he said.

Krueger is conductor of the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra and a noted guest conductor both in the United States and abroad, was given little chance to recover.

WIFE DENIES WRONG ACTS

Mrs. McDonald told police how Mrs. Krueger became the innocent victim of a domestic quarrel in which she had had no part.

"I recently filed a divorce suit against my husband," the heiress explained. "He filed a cross-complaint in which he declared my affections were being alienated by Mrs. Krueger. That was not true, of course."

"I honestly believe he is crazy," Mrs. Krueger knew about my family troubles. She took me into her home as a governess for her daughter."

"She never did anything to my husband that was wrong. And now this had to happen because my husband was insane with jealousy of a woman who never wished ill of anyone."

Mrs. Krueger's daughter, Theresa, was not harmed. Mrs. McDonald charged her husband previously had threatened her, Mrs. Krueger and the latter's daughter.

OPENED BANK ACCOUNT

McDonald, a 29-year-old electrician, was booked on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. He was quoted by officers as saying:

"Mrs. Krueger was always trying to get my wife away, telling her she had great ability. My wife would say she was going to a doctor and then I would find out that Mrs. Krueger was taking her to shows and dinners."

"My wife recently told me Mrs. Krueger had opened a bank account for her. She had been working for Mrs. Krueger off and on, and last June she went back to work for her as a governess."

"I always came second. Everything in our life was 'Mrs. Krueger this and Mrs. Krueger that.'"

Starvation Trap Set for Bandits

BROKEN BOW, Okla., Aug. 20 (INS)—Police officers, who have surrounded Floyd Hamilton and "Huron Ted" Walters, surviving members of the Barrow gang of gunmen, in the wooded foothills of the Kiamichi Mountains, today made plans to "starve out" the desperadoes.

Oklahoma State Safety Director J. M. Gentry, returning from the hunt, reported that the fugitives would have to be starved out of their position as the dense underbrush made it practically impossible to find them.

The outlaws, wanted for murder and bank robbery, are believed to be surrounded in a small tract. No automobiles of any kind are being allowed to leave or enter the 30-mile area.

Await Cleric's Spirit Return

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20 (AP)—Faith in the promise of the dead pastor of the First Spiritualist Church of Allegheny to "return from the dead" prompted members of his congregation today to plan a vigil for the reunion.

Funeral services for the Rev. Joseph Albert Frey, 79, pastor since 1893 of the Church of Old Allegheny—now Pittsburgh's north side—were held last night, while members of the congregation sat beside the bier waiting for his spirit to appear.

A spiritualist photographer focused his lens on the bier in an attempt to photograph "spiritual emanations" hovering over the body.

Hold Two in Lynn Theft Of Religious Articles

A Lynn man and a Boston companion were held today in connection with the theft of $1500 worth of chalices and other gold and silver sacred vessels of St. Stephen's Church, South Common street, Lynn, which were recovered at a junk shop and a pawnbroker's.

They are Fred Pearson, 35, of the Salvation Army Hotel, Boston, charged with larceny, and Clarence McDermott, 25, of Cooper street, Lynn, charged with receiving stolen property.

First clue to the theft, from the church safe last Sunday, came with discovery of some of the loot at a junk shop. The vessels had been backed up for old silver and gold.

According to police, Pearson visited the church to pray and then sought to borrow a dollar. Finding no one, according to his story, he took the vessels from an open safe.

Anthony declares that John and Gina really live in West Stoughton in substantiation of which his attorney produced records to show that the John Langone auto is registered at Stoughton.

Increase Seen In Oil Profits

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

International News Service Economic Commentator

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Frank Phillips, chairman of the Phillips Petroleum Company, told me that he expects a substantial increase in profits in the oil industry in the second half of this year.

The executive stated his reasons for this viewpoint in these words:

"Conditions in the oil industry are improving rapidly. Stocks of crude oil and gasoline which were accumulated during the latter part of 1937 have been reduced almost to working levels. Production is gradually eliminating over-production, gasoline prices are rising and consumption is increasing.

"I think it is reasonable to expect a substantial increase in earnings of the industry during the second six months of 1938 as compared with the first six months."

Mr. Phillips believes that public regulation of the industry should be improved and clarified.

"With the consumption of petroleum and its products increasing each year and now higher than ever before," Mr. Phillips said, "it seems unreasonable that the refinery price of gasoline should be below cost of manufacture, as has been the case during a part of the past year. This condition has been due largely to the lack of the proper regulation of the industry."

SURPLUS CUTS PRICE

"Low prices have resulted from surplus gasoline stocks and destructive competitive practices. The oil industry needs either clarification of present laws or new laws which would permit the industry to so regulate itself that uneconomical practices may be eliminated. I realize, of course, that any such regulations should provide that the interest of stockholders, employees and the public be protected."

Quarried about the Mexican situation as it bears on oil, Mr. Phillips, whose company has been especially progressive in changing technology, said:

"Although the confiscation of United States owned oil properties in Mexico has not greatly affected the oil industry of the world, it has in my opinion seriously affected the value of United States owned properties in foreign countries. When governments can confiscate our properties and get away with it, certainly the value of these foreign investments is questionable."

"There is no indication that the Latin-American countries have greatly benefited from the confiscation of American owned oil properties in Mexico."

Concerning the domestic outlook, Mr. Phillips added:

"Unlike many other industries the demand for the oil industry's principal product, gasoline, is not seriously affected by generally depressed conditions."

CONSUMPTION HIGHER

"With the sole exception of 1932, United States gasoline demand has each year exceeded that of the previous year. In spite of unfavorable general business conditions, the national consumption of gasoline during the first six months of 1938 was higher than during the same period last year. I see no reason why this should not continue throughout the year with the consumption for 1938 the highest in the history of the industry."

"Second to gasoline in production from crude oil are gas oil and fuel oil. Since a high percentage of these products is used for industrial purposes, their consumption is naturally affected by conditions in other industries. With general business conditions improving, normal demand for these products should soon be resumed."

A crew of 15 will begin work Monday and this number will gradually be augmented to about 50 when the branch is operated at full force.

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 20.—Thomas F. McMahon, state labor director, reports that Rhode Island employment registered a gain of 11 per cent in July over June. The number of wage earners increased from 57,475 to 63,799. This is the sharpest monthly upturn in several years in this state. Aggregate payrolls for the same companies totaled $1,303,964 in July as compared with $1,161,421 in June.

DETROIT, Aug. 20 (AP).—Ward's Automotive reports today estimated the week's automobiles in the automobile industry at 23,940 cars and trucks compared with 13,790 last week, crediting most of the rise to the resumption of operations at the Ford Motor Company.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP).—The Bureau of Mines estimated today the September market demand for domestic crude oil at 3,444,000 barrels daily. This was 6200 barrels higher than the August estimate.

HOURLY PLAY-BY-PLAY IN THE STOCK MARKET

Strong buying in motors made Chrysler and General Motors the big features in stock dealings today. The majority of issues displayed rising vigor at the outset, but when trading slowed up many of the initial advances were cut back.

10-11—Prices were higher at the outset, with industrials gaining ground for the sixth consecutive day. Some of the leaders made good sized jumps, generally trading was maintained at a slow pace, but the ast of a 2000-share block of Chrysler shot the stock up a point. General Motors continued in brisk demand and rose to a fresh 1933 high. Bolstering motors were forecasts from the Chrysler headquarters of expansion in the automobile industry from 25 per cent to 35 per cent. Steels, rubbers, coppers and electrical equipments were strong. Unrest over the European situation resulted in profit taking towards the close of the first hour and quotations receded fractionally from the tops. The turnover was 120,000 shares.

11-12—The market churned over a narrow range and interest petered out as the end of the short session approached. Steels seemed to grow tired, as did most other industrial groups. Chrysler and General Motors were exceptions. Both of these issues managed to keep near their best. Dealings slowed up as the majority of traders departed for a long weekend. Bendix became one of the prominent features when it hit a new top for the year. The volume was 220,000 shares.

Anti-Trust Law Agency Sought

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold wants a federal agency, similar to the securities commission in authority and extension, to enforce the anti-trust laws.

This was the interpretation given by some officials to certain statements Arnold made in an address on anti-trust statutes. Arnold pointed out that whereas other governments, divisions charged with executing major laws have many hundreds of workers, the anti-trust division of the Justice Department has only 90.

U. S. Demands Check Hoarding

LONDON, Aug. 20 (INR)—American insistence that currency fluctuations must be held within a narrow range was revealed today to have been responsible for French Premier Edouard Daladier's move to check gold hoarding and illegal exchange operations.

The United States made it known to France and Britain that, in the American view, the fluctuations must be narrowed if trade pacts and monetary agreements are to have any value.

Conversations of the past few weeks among Washington, London and Paris, compelled Daladier to act.

Chrysler Visions '39, Spends $15,000,000

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 20 (INR)—Chrysler Corporation spent $15,000,000 to remodel its cars for 1939, President K. T. Keller announced today.

The expenditure, greater than the corporation has made in several seasons, reflects the corporation's faith in the immediate future of business in America, Keller said, explaining.

"Sales of 1938 model automobiles, for the industry, will total approximately 2,550,000 units. Our best statisticians and our best guessers, estimate the sale of 1939 models will run between 2,500,000 and 3,500,000 units."

TAXES! TAXES! TAXES!

¶ "TAX" comes from the Latin, Tangere, which means to touch. The average man who applauds any tax that touches those of a higher income than himself fails to realize HE is also touched through UNSEEN TAXES.

¶ ONE dollar out of every FIVE that the average man earns goes for taxes directly or indirectly.

¶ On every loaf of bread he buys there are no less than 49 different hidden taxes.

¶ The next time he goes to the corner drug store, whether to buy ice cream or cough medicine, remember the proprietor pays 17 federal taxes, 27 state taxes, 34 local taxes, a total of 78 taxes.

¶ If he owns an automobile he pays four cents on every gallon of gasoline he uses.

¶ If he purchases one package of cigarettes daily he pays $21.90 in hidden taxes yearly.

¶ If he buys a new suit of clothes, he absorbs 12 different hidden taxes.

¶ If he pays $400 a year in rent he pays $160 in hidden taxes.

EVERYWHERE THE ALARM HAS BEEN SOUNDED AGAINST THE TREND TOWARD CONFISCATION BY TAXATION. TODAY, BUSINESS, INDUSTRY, EMPLOYMENT AND INDIVIDUAL INITIATIVE ARE THREATENED BY THIS TREND. CONFISCATORY TAXATION IS WIPING OUT BUSINESS PROFITS.

WHEN INDUSTRY SUFFERS FROM BURDENSOME TAXATION THE DEPRESSING RESULTS FALL DIRECTLY UPON THE COMMON PEOPLE.

IF TAXATION IS TO BE FOR THE COMMON WELFARE
IT MUST NOT BE DESTRUCTIVE!

Special to Boston Evening American

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Fourteen of the editors and publishers of the most influential newspapers of Japan were guests at a reception last night at the Mid-Day Club, on the first American stop of their international good will tour.

Takeshi Azuma, chairman of the delegation, told leaders of the Chicago press who greeted them that their visit was unrelated to the war in China and was merely intended to foster international understanding. They will leave tomorrow for Washington.

Hidesuke Iwaki, director of Hochi Shimbun, Tokyo, said that although the present Japanese business situation was capable of improvement, he was hopeful that conditions would improve "just as they have with us in America."

Ippyo Mori, member of the board of trustees of the Nippon press association and president of Nanyo Shimbun, appeared in a silk suit of his own design, which he said would prove suitable for comfortable wear in any climate.

TUNIC AS VEST

Entirely without buttons, it had loose pleated pants, a fold-over tunic worn as vest, tucking into the trousers, and a belted coat between regulation and three-quarter length. In winter cotton padding can be added without obviating the need of an overcoat.

In the delegation were Mr. Azuma, a member of Parliament and adviser of the Hokkai Times, Sapporo; Mr. Mori, Jun Foshida, editorial counselor of the Osaka Asahi Shimbun and Tokyo Asahi Shimbun; Dr. Kichii Miyake, editor of the Osaka Mainichi Shimbun; and Tokyo Nichi Nichi Shimbun; Tsubaki Takahashi, editor-in-chief of the Yomiuri Hunkun, Tokyo, and Mr. Iwaki.

Other members were Kunikida Nakamachi, managing editor of the Chugoku Shimbun, Hiroshima; Goro Ichizaki, a trustee of the Nippon Press Association and vice president of the Kahoku Shimbun; Senda; Kei Nishizawa, director of the Nippon Press Association and director and managing editor of the Shinano Mainichi Shimbun, Nagano; Isaburo Okada, business manager of the Shin-Aichi Shimbun, Nagoya, and director of Kokushin Shimbun, Tokyo; and Jiro Sakaguchi, counselor of Fukuoka Nichi Nichi Shimbun, Fukuoka.

GREETED BY CONNOLLY

The remaining members were Shukichi Azuma and Masakichi Teunashima, counselors of the Nippon Press Association, and Shochi Kodama, chief secretary of the association. They were greeted by Joseph V. Connolly, general manager of Hearst Publications; John W. Liebhart, managing editor of the Herald and Examiner, and Merrill C. Meigs, publisher of the Chicago Evening American.

Handwriting Is Cue to Good Memory

By HELEN PAYNE
Handwriting Psychologist

Good memory is an asset in any business. Some people wonder why they cannot remember dates, places or people's names.

Good memory is easily developed and is one of the greatest assets one can have. Everyone loves to be addressed by his proper name. It is only human vanity, of course, but most of us are proud of our names.

If you are a salesman and can call your prospective customer by name you have immediately pleased his vanity, and have made the opening approach much easier than as if you had had to ask his name or fiddle around trying to remember it.

Alfred Sloan, Jr., chief executive of General Motors, identified and named one thousand people as they filed past him at a convention recently. He greeted each one by name—a striking demonstration.

Yet this has been the means of his climbing to the important position he now holds. It has been a steady development which proved to be a tremendous help, not only at receptions but in keeping track of the affairs of the enormous concern which he directs.

You too CAN DEVELOP A GOOD MEMORY—IF YOU WISH TO. No trick memory system is necessary. It is simply improving the inborn faculties of memorizing which all persons possess to a greater or lesser degree.

Here is an example—if a friend promises to repay you some money on a certain day, you are sure to remember the day, because you WANT to remember it.

Another year we hope to open another garden.

The sample of writing shown here reveals the ability to "recall" or "recognize" a word, fact or place. Memory depends primarily upon the intelligence and amount of concentration one is possessed of.

The writing is free from "hows and loops" and depicts the mind is able to concentrate on the job in hand and lay away in the memory all the facts which may be necessary to recall in the future.

Memory can be likened to "hows" in the sea of the mind, in the shape of ideas to which facts may be tied by association, and are afterwards drawn to the surface, and remembered.

The writing above has good power for recognition, with "fairly good" recollective powers.

A clearness of ideas is present, observation and ability to concentrate and study. If you will but

Petition Seeks Selectman's Recall

Petitions demanding the recall of Selectman John M. Mutch of Norwood were circulated today, the first time in the town's history that such action has been started against an official of his rank.

Clement A. Riley, former member of the Norwood welfare board, started the recall movement by filing an affidavit of charges against Mutch for alleged interference with the duties of Town Manager William C. Kendrick.

Schloss Denny Ceremony

By BETTY ALDEN

MANY GUESTS at the Schloss Denny ceremony this noon in Manchester-by-the-Sea, were mildly surprised when the minister said "Charlotte, wilt thou have this man, etc." for Charlotte Denny, who was exchanging marriage vows with Oscar Schloss, Jr., is much better known as "Lotty" and it is seldom that her friends hear her addressed by her given name.

Lotty had no difficulty abiding by the old custom of wearing "something old" . . . for she had her Grandmother Denny's exquisite wedding gown of white silk pique . . . and over it was draped her Grandmother Hemmaway's lace veil, which was caught to her dark curls by a cluster of bouquets.

Lotty, who is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Parkman Denny of Milton and Indian Meadow, Manchester, was preceded down the aisle by her sister Nancy, in maid of honor, groomed in apple green net with a colorful arched garland of flowers in her hair, and a cluster of the same pastel flowers in her arm.

A quartet of bridesmaids, similarly groomed in yellow net, completed the bride's attendants. . . . They were Betty Richardson, Gertrude Peabody and Mrs. William Van A. Hansen, sister debs of the bride in the 1933-34 season . . . and Barbara Baxter, who came on from New York for the wedding . . .

Following the ceremony in Emmanuel Chapel, the couple greeted their friends in the garden at Indian Meadow . . . Mr. Schloss, son of a noted Gotham physician, and Mrs. Schloss, is a Harvard graduate and belongs to several exclusive social clubs across the Charles . . . Lotty graduated from Winsor before making her debut, and for the past two years has been studying art in New York . . . The newlyweds will live in New York . . .

Annual Sports Program on Cape Cod

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL WEEK at Buzzards Bay will wind up the social and sporting season of upper Cape Cod . . . This annual program, which will be held from August 27 through Labor Day, features land and sea sports in which a great many socialites from Marion to Wianno participate . . .

The idea of a week of sports contests, with a small entry fee for each event to raise funds for their favorite charity, was originally conceived by Mrs. John Hallowell and Mrs. Francis Harding . . . they ran it successfully for years but during the depression it was discontinued . . . Several summers ago, however, Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Baker of Wings Neck, revived an interest in the week of sports, so that once again it is an annual affair . . .

Mr. Baker heads the general committee and his wife is chairman of the water sports committee . . . Louise Harding, Mrs. Walter Weld and Dorothy Rackemann are in charge of the tennis tournament . . . while those who want to enter the golf tournament should send their entries to Rodney Howard, pro at Pocasset Golf Club . . .

Picnic Lunch Will Be Feature

WATER SPORTS and boat races will occupy the program for Friday . . . with everyone congregating on the sands at Wings Neck for a picnic luncheon at noon . . . Mrs. George Lee is in charge of the picnic, with the assistance of Mrs. William G. Saltonstall, Mrs. Geoffrey Smith, Mrs. Walter Wyeth and Mrs. Stewart Craigin . . .

Augustus Flake, Jr., helped his sister, Kitty, run the boat races last year . . . but now that Kitty is in Europe he is taking on the responsibility with the help of Goodwin Harding, William Saltonstall and Walter Wyeth . . .

Adding Insult to Injury

The Editor Says: Nelson Harding's imaginative cartoon accurately portrays a problem that concerns every American, particularly the American who works for a living.

From New York comes news that a federal grand jury has alleged, with indictments, that alien spy rings are active in the United States.

From Washington arrives the announcement that the EIGHTH TENTH of the more than thirty has been signed, opening our home market to MORE cheap foreign goods that will compete with those of our own industries and labor.

Some men would WAKE UP and look into his imports. With the PHASE and the PROSPERITY of 130 millions of his people at stake, he cannot tolerate insults or ignore injury.

In a word, laughing with arms and seething with hatreds, there is only one answer for America. It is—AMERICANS FIRST!

NO GREATER TRIBUTE

has ever been said to a nation by a dependency than the tribute to the United States by President Manuel L. Quezon, president of the Philippine Commonwealth, and the Filipino people on the occasion of the Island-wide celebration of the fortieth anniversary of American occupation on August 17.

When I saw the Spanish flag hauled down on the afternoon of August 15, 1898, and saw the Stars and Stripes take its place I little realized," said President Quezon, "that I was witnessing an event which ultimately may prove the GREATEST EVENT IN MODERN CIVILIZATION FOR THE ORIENT."

These are the benefits that Quezon lists which came to his people from the Great Republic over the seas:

1. Civilization in a government of the people, for the people, by the people.
2. Birth of Filipino nationhood, encouraged by the United States.
3. Peace and prosperity to islands torn by civil wars.
4. Development of sanitation, education, agriculture and industrial enterprises.
5. A higher level of living.

"All this," said President Quezon, "we owe to that Starry Flag and to the great people it represents."

Future boasts of its battles, of its triumphs in war, of its conquests.

When America boasts of the triumphs of the arts of peace, of deeds of international mercy, of those great ideals of liberty and practical progress that the Filipino people celebrate today after 40 years of tutelage in the folds of Old Glory.

BOSTON'S BEST WISHES accompany the Massachusetts delegation to the national convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars in Columbus, Ohio.

Every resident sincerely hopes that these delegates will be successful in their efforts to have Boston chosen as the scene for the organization's convention next year.

We are also hopeful that the American Legion's 1940 convention will be in Boston. To every Legionnaire we promise the happiest, very best time of his life.

The Political Parade

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20

THE likelihood of a political debate for President Roosevelt in Maryland rests not merely upon the superior qualifications of Senator Milford E. Tydings, but even upon his effective state-wide organization, and his powerful newspaper support.

It rests in the fact, analyzed in an independent character of the people in the continental United States. They have to be put upon.

Here again, however, the subject is following, inevitably, the steps of William Wilson.

For Wilson, one must attribute to the people of Maryland in the matter of the election of a Senator and the rebuke he received should have been warning to the eager gentleman who was then a young New York politician, his assistant Secretary of the Navy.

IN THE primaries of 1914, two years after the Princeton Professor had become President, his zeal for reform led him to oppose the re-election of Democratic Senator John Walter Smith of Maryland, an Eastern Sho lumberman of great wealth.

There were two candidates against him, William L. Marbury, a Baltimore lawyer, whom Wilson favored, and Isaac Lobe Straus, State attorney general.

In reply he received an open letter from Mr. Straus, early in 1913, which to this day is a classic, a rebuke to any President who so far forgets the nature of the American form of government as to try to tribute to the voters of a sovereign State.

Mr. Wilson was a man of having got Mr. Marbury's letter, and of intent to cause the power and patronage of the Federal Government to make sure of his nomination and election.

THIS Mr. Straus denoted as "repugnant" to the American form of government, to the principles and covenants of our constitutional system.

In conclusion Mr. Straus raised precisely the issue which Senator George has now raised in Georgia, and Representative John O'Connor has raised in New York City. He said:

"I am sure that as President and personally you cannot think the people of Maryland are incapable of self-reliance and that they cannot be trusted to elect their own representatives for the Senate or any other post of public duty. No one can doubt that you must and do know that the people of Maryland are fully capable of self-reliance and entirely to be trusted to do these things."

LET US SEE what happened to President Wilson in the elections of 1914.

The man he tried to drive from the Senate, bluff John Walter Smith, was nominated, and Mr. Marbury, the White House hand-picked candidate, was defeated. In November Smith was re-elected to the Senate.

Wilson had carried Maryland in 1912 by 57,718. Two years after meddling in the Maryland Senatorial content, in 1916, he carried the State by a plurality of only 21,000.

By the pretexts Maryland Democrats will resent Mr. Roosevelt's interference, and show that resentment by re-nominating Senator Tydings.

And Mr. Roosevelt will not help his party in the State for 1940.

The Brighter Side Bizarre Didoes Taboo At Hines Trial

By DAMON RUNYON

WE ARE having just a little of decorum in the conduct of the Jimmy Hines trial. It is something of a novelty to the veterans of the Hall-Mills, Snyder-Gray Hauptmann and other celebrated trials of the past 15 years.

Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora, who is presiding, made up his mind in advance that there would be no unseemly didoes connected with this one, though Justice Pecora himself once figured prominently in a proceeding that produced the most startling dido of all time.

That was when Justice Pecora, before he was a justice, was conducting the investigation in Washington into the financial structure of the nation and a circus press agent plopped a nudist lady into J. Pierpont Morgan's lap. Of course, Justice Pecora had nothing to do with this weird exploitation of his star witness. In fact he was pretty hot about it. But we just mention it to show you that didoes are not new to him.

Also when he was connected with the office of the District Attorney in New York not many years ago, Justice Pecora did not mind didoes. However, with his black robe has come great dignity and, further, more the American bar in general has decided that the didoes at the Hauptmann trial in New York ended all didoes in court rooms in this country.

No photographers are permitted in court by Justice Pecora only attorneys for picture purposes. It must be admitted that an artist drawing sketches with a soft pencil on soft paper is practically noiseless, but we do not think the photographers with their modern equipment produce any undue confusion. We must always slide in a good word for our pals the hard-working photographers.

There is no loud speaker equipment in the court room but we will let Justice Pecora wish there was during the examination of the talemson for jury service when the lawyers seemed to be vying to see who could get his voice down to the lowest pit. Mr. Tom Dewey won that one by seven lengths.

The number of spectators in the courtroom is limited to the seating capacity with very few standees and the room holds only a few hundred counting every body. The biggest crowd is always in the streets in Foley Square and the cops do not permit them to jam up around the building. The photographers wait along the long slopes of the steps for the prominent figures of the trial.

Of course the Hines case has few of the startling elements in the trials we have mentioned. It is not a murder trial and it has no female angles. It is not attracting the lady spectators who swarm to the more lurid court transactions, and probably the ladies would find it a dull show.

However, we think it affords the ladies a look on which they might hang a right heavy awnaw. No ladies were drawn on the Blue Ribbon panel though 11,000 women in New York waived exemption from jury service. You are we have had the law permitting women on New York juries only a short time and it seems that the Blue Ribbon panel is supposed to be made up of persons experienced in jury duty. But how can the ladies get experience if they are not given the opportunity?

THE MOST DRAMATIC point in any trial we ever covered as we see it now was the confession of Jodi Gray boomed through a loud speaker in the old court room in Long Island City from which Gray and his associate Ruth Snyder went to the electric chair. The weirdest trial of all was the Hall-Mills affair with its array of unusual characters and Senator Alex Simpson's bizarre prosecution. The Hauptmann trial was the most tragic, and the wildest.

One Word Led to Another

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

IT MIGHT be a good thing if Trailertites knew something about the roads they traveled on in addition to the pounners and the detours.

AT THE START of 1931 there were 533,144 miles of road in the United States, of which 113,695 miles were gloriously Grade A surface or cement, asphalt and bitumen macadam. There were 690 miles of wood block and 2812 of vitrified brick.

OF THE TOTAL of 533,144 miles of road there were 371,421 miles surface. Altogether, we have 3,900,000 miles of highways in the western hemisphere against a world total of 2,300,000.

IF A TRAILERTITE wanted to see all of the United States at 20 cents a gallon and ten gals to the mile, it would cost him ten thousand, six hundred dollars for gasoline. If he changed his oil every thousand miles, he would certainly get spots on his overalls.

IF HE OBEYED the speed limits of 30 miles an hour for a working total of ten hours a day, it would take him close to five years for the warming up.

DURING THE FIVE years on the highways the Trailertites would stop at 5332 hot dog stands and would more than eat his own weight in pickles and pepper sauce. But he wouldn't be bothered by landlords, hook agents or fellows selling grass seed. And every day he could do what we have been threatening to do all our lives. He could move.

Listen, World!

A TRICKLE of water seeps from the south spring, filters along the edge of the pine woods, then breaks, tinkling, murmuring, into the open field.

It is only a tiny stream, no wider than my hands, a thin glint of light, nearly hidden in the tangled grass. But if you will be beside it for a quiet hour you will discover many things.

With the years the thread of water has cut a narrow bed for itself. In some places it runs through the red loam. There the water is a rusty gold, dappled with many flecks, that flow and part and flow again like drops of mercury. In other places the bed is cut through quartz and granite sand, and the water is a shining gray sheet with gleams of china.

And again, the water spreads into a little pool, dark as old amber. The pool is no larger than a cup, yet it mirrors the shape of pines and holds within its shallow, shadowed depth the mystery of power.

Many things float in the tangle that borders the stream. There mosses with their pads of emerald green, delicate pieces with stems fringed as spun glass, and covering seed pods like small, crystal beads.

HOLLYWOOD: I watched the group of monkey comedians, known as the Dead End kids, prancing gaily in the unfettered manner of a circus with pretty little girl partners in exaggerated versions of the Sine and the Big Apple. Trowen and two others. This was at a good friend Monte Trowen's law office and among the pretty little girl partners were Judy Garland, Miss Gable, Page and the doll-like Blanche Bingle who only a few years ago was the little heroine of the Our Gang series. Now, they had come to be having a wonderful time and though they carried on in a manner that would shock our sweet Nellie conventions of a decade or two ago, I am quite certain no harm will come of this greater freedom of which our young are the beneficiaries.

Louis Sobol

THE Dead End kids are the current Pick and Paul boys and the Tom Sawyer and the Huckleberry boys. I remember in my day that you could not go to the library and get copies of the books about these insolent but fascinating young scoundrels, although probably none of our better and more erudite folk began insisting that the Mark Twain libraries were classics and then the library officials weakened.

WELL, now something like this fuss is being raised about these Dead End kids who are fresh and blood young villains of the screen. And

Illustrious Neighbors by Hugh S. Johnson

BETHANY BEACH: I'd it was probably only coincidence that Father Divine decided to set up his latest 'Heaven' for ill-fated, ill-clad and ill-housed underprivileged people of the colored race at Krum Elbow, just across the creek from the almost baronial magnificence of Mr. Roosevelt's Hyde Park, but who can say it was not appropriate?

Among the foremost of his great political achievements was Mr. Roosevelt's feat in moving the heavy and frequently decisive Northern Negro vote from the Republican to the Democratic column almost as a body. It was a perfectly legitimate maneuver. Just as the Republicans had taken the loyal Mid-West farmers for granted too long and done nothing about their inequalities, so they took too long for granted the loyal Negroes' gratitude to Republicans for emancipation. A principal element in Mr. Roosevelt's success is that he capitalized on these blunders and reversed these policies. He has done much for both groups.

Beyond that there are things in common between the methods of Mr. Roosevelt and Father Divine. None of his followers has yet said that YET living close with our feet at their level you see that Father Divine is not a red or black hypocrite, but a man of great heart and with order. The general rule of his group is that each man and each woman is to be a good man and a good woman.

At the same time, Father Divine is a man of great heart and with order. The general rule of his group is that each man and each woman is to be a good man and a good woman.

Unseen but very real, it is the smell of something that is not seen, is the smell of something that is not seen, is the smell of something that is not seen.

Light is not seen, but it is very real. It is the smell of something that is not seen, is the smell of something that is not seen, is the smell of something that is not seen.

A man of great heart and with order. The general rule of his group is that each man and each woman is to be a good man and a good woman.

Some of the things that are not seen, is the smell of something that is not seen, is the smell of something that is not seen, is the smell of something that is not seen.

by Louis Sobol

the other most interesting fact seen to be that the group of monkey comedians, known as the Dead End kids, prancing gaily in the unfettered manner of a circus with pretty little girl partners in exaggerated versions of the Sine and the Big Apple. Trowen and two others. This was at a good friend Monte Trowen's law office and among the pretty little girl partners were Judy Garland, Miss Gable, Page and the doll-like Blanche Bingle who only a few years ago was the little heroine of the Our Gang series. Now, they had come to be having a wonderful time and though they carried on in a manner that would shock our sweet Nellie conventions of a decade or two ago, I am quite certain no harm will come of this greater freedom of which our young are the beneficiaries.

NEVERtheless, with the group to hurt the feelings of the state, Father Divine, who employ these talented young boys, I don't like very much, often their secondary school, who to be a good man and a good woman.

by Hugh S. Johnson

the President is a good man and with order. The general rule of his group is that each man and each woman is to be a good man and a good woman.

THE HARLEM money feeds his flocks. No one seems to know just where the money comes from and Father Divine doesn't seem to care. He just finds it in a box or under his pillow and that is enough for him. It hasn't been much more difficult for Mr. Roosevelt to get the money to feed his flocks either.

Finally, there are no bosses in Father Divine's 'Heaven' except the dark Al-Highest himself. His word goes and if there is any argument about it the solution is simple. The dissenter gets swiftly kicked out of 'Heaven' and thereafter shifts for himself. Exactly the same process seems now to be going on in the Third New Deal Heaven.

THERE is a lot more than a wise-cracking comparison in all this. Most Germans regard Hitler with much the same emotional adoration of the Harlem Negroes for Father Divine and of many Third New Dealers for Mr. Roosevelt. It isn't hard to get into that state with the President. I once was almost there myself. It makes a crushing relation in which anything might happen. But does it make the best and soundest government?

There is a lot more than a wise-cracking comparison in all this. Most Germans regard Hitler with much the same emotional adoration of the Harlem Negroes for Father Divine and of many Third New Dealers for Mr. Roosevelt.

SUNDAY'S PAPER

But the obituary told only a small part of this strange woman's amazing career. Why did she kill?

Tomorrow, you will know the answer. Your Sunday Advertiser tells you. Like a chapter from medieval history reads the life of this woman.

THE LEGION CONVENTION, undoubtedly one of the most enjoyable events in Massachusetts history, receives liberal attention in the Advertiser. Trained writers give you all the important news. So, tomorrow, go in spirit to Worcester and enjoy the fun.

CATHOLIC ACTION is alert and active in America, in Boston particularly. Young men and young women strive to lead exemplary lives and endeavor thereby to spread the word of the Gospel. In your Sunday Advertiser you will meet Catholic Action leaders, hear about their plans and obtain a new understanding of their purposes. You'll enjoy this article and its volumes of information.

From Boston to the Berkshires this article will be read. It is the kind of news thousands of farmers have been waiting weeks to hear.

BETTER THAN EVER is the Sunday Advertiser's sport section. Henry Armstrong, the new ring sensation, only fighter to hold three championships at one time, writes his OWN STORY.

OTHER FEATURES (too numerous to mention in this limited space) await you in your Advertiser. There are: Ann Masters' TYPICAL GIRL CONTEST, Dashiell Hammett's thrilling novel, "GIRL HUNT," an excellent story by Rabbi Joseph S. Shulow of Brighton, an up-to-the-minute analysis of recovery in New England and a pictorial account of the artists' ball in Provincetown.

THE AMERICAN WEEKLY, which is distributed with your Sunday Advertiser, offers you one of the brightest and best editions in its long history.

Why Everyone Should Live to Be 150!

Living for a century and a half... that should be the life span of human beings on earth, according to Dr. Boris Sokoloff, distinguished medical author, who insists there is no such thing as natural death.

Old Age Unnatural, Noted Doctor Says

Short lives are due to bad government of the cells of the body, Dr. Sokoloff points out. His belief is that old age is a mere symptom of disease and that fatigue is man's worst enemy. His theory revealing how most every man's life span could be extended is clearly discussed in The American Weekly. Be sure to read it!

MR. BOSTON

Fred Wright Says | Praises Belmont
Putting Is Vital | Golf Classic

By JACK CONWAY

FRED WRIGHT, Massachusetts amateur golf champion, told me he was looking forward with considerable interest to seeing Horton Smith, Harry Cooper, Lawson Little and Jimmy Thomson in their exhibition golf match at the Belmont Country Club a week from tomorrow.

Mr. Boston

"What do you consider one of the most essential assets for a great golfer?" I asked Wright.

"Putting," was the quick reply. "At Belmont you will see Smith, Cooper, Little and Thomson using only one putt on many greens. Unless a golfer can get these one putts at frequent intervals he isn't going to win any titles."

"One can be off on his drive or approach shot, and make up for it, but every time you take an unnecessary putt you are piling trouble on your own shoulders."

I asked Wright if he had any special way for getting ready for a championship tournament.

"There was a time," replied Fred, "when I used to train almost as carefully as a boxer does for a title bout. I would reduce on the amount and type of food which I would eat. I would pass up coffee for tea, while I would play golf frequently."

"In recent years between my business and trying to get to the beach in time for a swim, I have not practiced as much as I formerly did. If I get by the first day or so of a tournament, I get into condition by actual playing, and then hit my real stride."

"Even in a tournament that lasts for a week, I seldom lose more than three or four pounds. I don't feel tired during a tournament, especially if I am winning. There is something about winning that takes away fatigue."

"Bill Grimes and the Boston Evening American-Sunday Advertiser are to be congratulated for getting Smith, Cooper, Little and Thomson for their Christmas Basket Fund. It is the greatest golf attraction that could be brought here, and I'll be at Belmont to get a few pointers that will improve my game."

Wright has returned about his enthusiasm and love for golf which is why he is so famous.

Running Horses at Marshfield Fair

GEORGE E. HUETIS reminds me that the running horses will be in action at the Marshfield Fair all next week. I have always liked the atmosphere of the Marshfield Fair. I have attended this fair for ten years, and have liked the addition of the running horses to the program.

Let George tell the story in his letter, which is as follows:

"Dear Mr. Boston

"Now that the horses and the greyhounds in Massachusetts have been put to bed until the first of October, we are eagerly looking forward to the annual party which Ernie Sparrell and Russ Murray are going to throw next week at Marshfield Fair. You must recall what a grand job these fellows did last year."

"This year's fair in the colorful South Shore town is the 72nd annual exposition. It was only three years ago when Marshfield, like the great majority of state fairs, was on the brink of financial disaster. The board of directors groped around in the dark for something which might prevent this great institution from passing into oblivion. The day had arrived when no longer could the fair go along in the red."

"So it was Ernie Sparrell of Norwell who popped up with an idea. He called the board together and in effect said, 'The statutes permit horse racing with pari-mutuels at the state fairs. Now, gentlemen, why can't we try that? The conservative members stuck their tongues in their cheeks and wagged their heads apprehensively. They wondered what would happen if dear old Marshfield made such a radical move."

Sparrell Wins for Horses

"THERE WERE several meetings before the optimistic Mr. Sparrell convinced the board that the runners would prove to be the salvation of the fair. Ultimately the board voted to try the pari-mutuels and subsequently the state racing commission granted the dates. This marked the first time in the history of the state that a state fair conducted horse racing with pari-mutuel wagering."

"Then came the time and the question as to who would put on the racing program. It wasn't long before Russ Murray was selected for the job. He was the ideal choice chiefly because of the series of successes he enjoyed with both horses and dogs on race tracks throughout the United States. Racing fans know the rest of the story. Marshfield came out of the red... made money for two years... and this year looks like a banner one."

"So, Mr. Boston, try to reserve one day, at least, for Marshfield next week. Outside of the racing activities there is everything at Marshfield which typifies all that is lively in New England."

"Thanks for listening and... see you at Marshfield."

"GEORGE E. HUETIS."

'Aussie' Ace Faces Alice in Finals

By WALTER KILEY

MANCHESTER-BY-THE-SEA, Aug. 20—Were the landed gentry of the North Shore inclined to wager a bob or two, they'd be forced to offer even money on the outcome of this afternoon's Essex County Club title match between Berkeley Hills' Alice Marble and Australia's Nancie Wynne.

A week ago the 21-year-old Wynne, who came from the Antipodes, was just another foreign challenger up for the job to gain the championship. Miss Marble, with her wealth of international competition and her 1930 national championship as a background, was a prohibitive favorite to capture the Essex title for the second time.

But the Australian miss has turned out to be a surprising series of victories, a streaking that has surprised even the well-known tennis writers who had predicted the winner.

The 4-match series with it more than the usual history was made by Wynne.

It was Wynne who, in the opening match, defeated the former national champion, Miss Alice Marble, at Forest Hills.

WYNNIE GIRL IMPRESSIVE

It has been said, or less difficult to get at, that the life in the California sun, during the week in which she won the title, was a real one. Miss Wynne, daughter of Ernest and Mrs. Wynne, of England.

And, in the final match, Wynne, who is 5' 10", 120 lbs., 19, defeated Miss Alice Marble, who is 5' 8", 110 lbs., 21.

She stole the show. Regardless of how she makes out against Alice Marble in the Essex finals today, Miss Nancie Wynne of Australia, above, came through with one of the biggest upsets in tennis history by reaching the top round. She looms as a future champion.

Wood Battles Budge

NEWPORT R. I. Aug. 20 (INS)—Sidney Wood of New York, former Davis Cup star, alone stands between National Champion Don Budge and permanent possession of the Newport Casino Cup this afternoon.

The New Yorker will be pitted against the Californian in the 22d annual invitation tournament finals here this afternoon as a result of his victory over Joe Hunt of Los Angeles in a semi-final match, 6-2, 6-3, 5-7, 8-6. Meantime Budge flashed some of the skill for which he is noted by downing Frankie Parker of Pasadena, Calif., in a semi-final match, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3.

Three tournaments under his belt, Budge now enters the final round, a triumph which would enable him to retain the historic trophy.

Comparing the 1933 season, which marked his play during the week, Budge raced through the match with Parker without meeting a serious threat. During the 23-game match he lopped off 33 placements against 24 nets and 13 outs.

In the Wood-Hunt match, the former's strong volleys and steady net play earned him a surprising victory.

Wynne's victory over Marble was a real one. Wynne, who is 5' 10", 120 lbs., 19, defeated Miss Alice Marble, who is 5' 8", 110 lbs., 21. Wynne, who is 5' 10", 120 lbs., 19, defeated Miss Alice Marble, who is 5' 8", 110 lbs., 21.

NEW HAIRCUTS FOR SOX

Here's one for Bob Ripley, "Believe It Or Not," Bob Adams, who won the state junior championship yesterday, has never owned a set of golf clubs. He said Joey Hoffman's clubs at Salem. . . In three of the four games that they have won since returning home, the Red Sox have come from behind. . . That type of baseball appeals to the fans.

The Dodgers have finally unseated a way for Freddie Frankhouse to beat the Red Sox. . . A night game, which broke Lou Pette's winning streak. . . Here's the follow up on that old pun "cut" in Terry Anderson. . . Along with Carl Nettelbladt and Fred Hill, his clubmates from the Green Hill Golf Club of Worcester, Terry will play in the 17th annual U. S. Public Links championship next week in Cleveland. . . With all due respect to Babe Ruth's selection, Joe Gordon, the most improved ball player in the American League is NOT Joe Gordon, of the Yankees, but George Washington Case of the Nats. . . But for the fact that its owner is the son of one of the powers that be, one of the thoroughbreds, running at "tangent" would not be allowed to start because of physical ailments. . . According to experts this horse is liable to throw a leg one of these fine days while walking in the infield.

Tony Manero

Freddie Wright, amateur champion of the state, Tony Manero, Salem, the former United States open titleholder, Johnny Burke, who along with being Mr. Rhode Island "champ" is also the national in rounders, artist and Dave Whitehead, champion of the Bay state, will play an exhibition match next Wednesday at the Country Club of New Bedford.

Joe Cronin, Jimmy Fox and Ed Chapman are wearing Southern League haircuts. . . Right down to the bone. . . Gaby Hartnett never saw the day when he could throw a ball that could reach within fifty yards of the fix that Fred Snodgrass muffed in the 1912 World Series. . . Down in Nogales, Texas, there's a 19 year old pitcher, Nanny Navarez, who has struck out 54 batters in four games. . . Emory Stratton, who was the runner up to Freddie Wright in the state amateur championship, recently established a new course record at Commonwealth. . . After a 4-5-3 start and with a 3 on the loch hair, "B" was 35-11-56. If Frank Cook, as exposed today at Rhode Island Country Club, it will be the finish of the "Italian Count".

Golf Aces To Wager On Match

By BILL GRIMES

Although they are working with but one objective in mind, Horton Smith and Harry Cooper usually wager that they'll beat Jimmy Thomson and Lawson Little in at exhibition matches.

Month in and month out, Smith, Cooper, Thomson and Little tout the country playing exhibition matches and staging their interesting and instructive shot making demonstrations. Their objective is golf promotion but in order to keep keyed up they frequently play five dollar Nassau.

Until they started a tour through Racine, Wis., Milwaukee, St. Paul, Duluth, Yankton and Lake Okoboji, being featured at a football and basketball coaches school in the latter place, Horton Smith teamed up with Jimmy Thomson and Harry Cooper had Lawson Little for his partner.

It was Horton Smith who had to have the "sluggers," Thomson and Cooper, to battle play longer. Horton the public would get more kind out of watching the long battles attempt to out-distance each other while playing as partners. He appreciated that his arrangement might work a hardship on him and Cooper, but the public comes first in his opinion.

"We really don't need any side help to spur us on," revealed Lawson Little, "but if Horton and Harry want to wager on the outcome of these matches, it's okay with us."

THRILL IN WINNING

"As you know, Jimmy and I have established the professional winning record of Horton and Harry and we get a real thrill out of beating them when possible, without any side bets. (They) play pretty tough. Naturally we are usually well out in front of them off the tee and until I tied up with this crowd I never fully realized the truth of that old saying, "they don't pay off on the drives. They are really uncanny with their irons and are inside us, as often as they are away."

"I've played and watched considerable golf in the past decade but Horton and Harry show me something new in the line of shots almost daily. They have mastered iron play and I've learned plenty just from observation."

"During my days in the area I've seen a lot of golfers but I'm a long hitter but I realize now that the experts hadn't seen him my Thomson when they played that crown on my noble brow. In every exhibition match we play, Jimmy comes up with at least one record breaking tee shot."

"Between practice rounds the other day in Cleveland, Jimmy confided to me that he was really going to take off the brakes at Belmont, during the Boston Evening American-Sunday Advertiser Christmas Basket Fund match one week from tomorrow afternoon and show the New England golf enthusiasts just how far he can drive a ball."

"This is the third year that I've been traveling and playing with Jimmy Thomson and I can honestly state that I've never seen him as long as he is now. But, still we have a tough time beating Horton and Harry, who are really master shot makers."

Revere Nine in Legion Finals

PHILADELPHIA, Ind. Aug. 19 (AP)—Revere Nine, who defeated H. H. 8 to 4, here yesterday in the second game of the northeast sectional American Legion junior baseball tournament.

Revere will play in the final 12, against Detroit which eliminated Trenton, N. J., Thursday.

Domestic touch. Mrs. Jimmy Thomson, the former Viola Dana of movie fame, measures her husband's foot for a knitted pair of golf socks. Wonder if Jimmy will wear them in the big match at Belmont a week from tomorrow?

Cooper Ties Course Record in Title Golf

TORONTO, Aug. 20 (AP)—Harry Cooper of Chicago, defending his title in the annual golf championship of the United States, today tied the record of 184 set by Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., and big Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. missed his mark by one stroke each as they vied for the lead in the final round of the 100th U. S. Open.

Cooper and Snead, who had 89 for their opening rounds tied for the lead at the 18th hole with 114 strokes. Snead, who opened with a 71, was one stroke behind Cooper in a four stroke gap between Smith and the next player on the list, Horton Smith of Chicago, and Ed Oliver of Wilmington and the Connecticut Sun, bag 70-111 and Oliver 85-74 for the same total. Gene Kuha of Chicago, the 1932 champion, who scored the first round lead with 87-111, trailed the halfway mark at 198-221.

Two other champions in the field, Lawson Little, 1930 winner of the Walter Hagen who won the U. S. in 1933, were well out of the running. Hagen had 145 and Little 146. Vic Ghezzi and Jimmy Hines tied with Hagen while other stars trailed. Willie Goggin and Jimmy Thomson had 117 each and Tony Maltby, former U. S. open champion, had 124. Horton Smith, who an champion had 148 and Ross Sanders, winner of the former Canadian and United States amateur championships, 151.

The leading performances all were masterly affairs in which Cooper, Hagen and Snead performed the already. Alston matched him in the final round where he 89 for 101 for a total of 189, the best of the top 100, and 101 out.

Mixed Card in Arena Show

Six boxing bouts and six in addition to the regular six wrestling bouts will be featured at the Arena on next Wednesday night.

In the feature wrestling bout Ted Dennis, the South London Terrier, will tackle Sailor Adams of the U. S. S. Maryland. An both of these boys, who are tough fighters, one of the quietest bouts of the season is expected. In the semi final, the Masked Marvel will tackle Slim Espinoza, Mexican of Mexico.

Several of the younger generation of boxers are now being signed up, and they will precede the wrestling show.

Scarer, Vilsen's

Narragansett Form

By DAVE WILSON

Selections for Fast Track

BEST BET—SCARER, 3D RACE

NARRAGANSETT PARK, R. I.

Aug. 20—Black Wave, a sweet-running filly from the Nyrdie Stable, is my choice to triumph in the $7500 added New England Oaks, mile and one-sixteenth feature here today.

New York Observer's send along word that Doc Jones' Pet was much the best in the recent running of the Alabama Stakes at Saratoga.

Black Wave finishes second in that one and one-half lengths behind

Handcuff.

FIRST RACE

Anxiety, Argella, Top Queen

Downs, where she finished second to Friendly Paul, has been going great guns in morning trials over the local oval and needs only a smooth ride to insure a brace.

Argella, second to Gay Amazon

the other day, again shapes up better than TOP QUEEN. The latter finished two full lengths behind

ARGELLA in her most recent start.

SECOND RACE

Hope To Do, Vote Boy, Bellum

HOPE TO DO seemed six sur-

longes in 1:12 1/2—the fastest time of the meeting for a cheap ladder

—to lead home Fredrick and others

in his most recent race. VOTE

BOY is dropping lower, several picks on the class ladder. BELLUM

was probably best the other day

when beaten by Little Time and Night Chase.

THIRD RACE

Scarer, Notas Sociales, Fouragere

SCARER an up-and-coming juvenile from the Hal Price Headley stable ran the best race of his short career Saturday to finish second in the race won by Paddy. NOTAS

SOCIALES, pitted a trifle too high

the same day in debutante races, several shapes up clearly next best. FOUR-

RAGER graduated in 1:05 4-5,

but the track was at tops for the first time of the meeting.

FOURTH RACE

Lady Maryland, Pordina, Black

LADY MARYLAND, unsuited in both of her starts at the current meeting, needs only to run back to top Empire City races to clinch brackets. PORDINA, on general

Rockingham Park form, shapes up slightly better than BLACK LOOK.

The latter holds considerable class which he failed to show at Saratoga

when he finished a dismal trailer in a field of six.

FIFTH RACE

Black Wave, Handcuff, Dolly Val

BLACK WAVE will have to turn tables on HANDCUFF. The latter finished one and one-half lengths

in advance of the race won by Count

Dean, and she has a weight shift of five pounds in her favor.

DOLLY VAL received an excellent cushion in a sprint race the other day, and she easily looks best of the local contingent.

SIXTH RACE

One Chance, High Finance, Janen

ONE CHANCE was barely necked out by Desarter in his most recent start. He drops four pounds in actual weight and figures to experience

scant difficulty in gracing the winner's circle. HIGH FINANCE gets a powerful figure on her recent triumph over Chancing, but he is moving up a long way on the class ladder. JANEN is a possibility.

SEVENTH RACE

Lina's Son, Jerred, Lady Federal

LINA'S SON was beaten only two necks by Desarter and One

Chance the other day after setting

a blistering pace. JERRED, in fourth in the race won by Count

Dean, is descending the claiming

scale. LADY FEDERAL is coming

off a good sprint effort and the

increased yardage should not

harm her chances.

EIGHTH RACE

Offender, Little Banner, Tiempo

OFFENDER, winner of three straight races, including two victories at the current meeting, shapes up vastly superior to the field down to contest honors in the nightcap. LITTLE BANNER,

third to Tiempo and Tragat in advance of the race won by Count

Dean, is descending the claiming

scale. LADY FEDERAL is coming

off a good sprint effort and the

increased yardage should not

harm her chances.

Clocker Bill's Form

By BILL SMITH

Brookmeade Stable's Handcuff, fresh from her recent triumph in the historic Alabama Stakes at Saratoga, looks all over a winner in today's renewal of the "New England Oaks" at Narragansett Park and must be rated the best wagering hazard on the card.

Travis Leading League

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—Keeping step with the dizzy developments of the big league pennant races, the rival battling derbies are offering the folks one surprise after another.

Cecil Travis, the Washington shortstop, who didn't figure in the American League clouting circus for most of the first half of the season, then caught up with the leaders last week, now has taken the pace all by himself with a .349 batting average. He hit safely ten times in 26 chances this week to boost his average three points and finish in front of Jimmy Foss of Boston, who had .346.

Ernie (Schnozola) Lombardi, Cincinnati's crack catcher, is doing the upsetting over in the National League.

Beating against such sluggers as Paul Waner, Mel Ott, Arky Vaughan and Ducky Medwick, Ernie has held the senior circuit pace since the early part of the year. Boosting his mark two points to .355 this week, he raised his first place margin to 19 points over his teammate, Bucky McCormick, who took second place away from Vaughan.

HAYES NEWCOMER
Newcomers in the top-ten groups for the week were Minter Hayes, the Chicago White Sox infielder, whose .326 mark was good for 10th place in the American League, and Phil Weintraub and Buck Jordan, Phillies teammates, who climbed to a tie for third and a tie for tenth, respectively, in the senior circuit. Weintraub broke into the select set by passing the 200-at-bat minimum.

Season records of the 10 in each league (based on 200 or more times at bat):

Clint Ferguson In Boat Races

RED BANK, N. J., Aug. 20 (AP)—Led by veteran Jack Cooper of Kansas City, top ranking inboard and outboard speedboat pilots of the eastern United States will invade the North Shrewsbury River today and tomorrow to seek new records in the ninth annual National Sweepstakes Regatta.

A dozen new marks were written into the books of the American Power Boat Association here last year, and officials, with the largest field in history ready to start, predicted several of the 1937 standards would be erased.

Cooper, nearing the three-score mark in years, will defend championships he holds in the National Sweepstakes—feature event of the two-day classic—and in the race for 225 cubic inch hydroplanes. Among speedboat drivers entered in the events are Douglas Fonda of Orange, who last year was timed at 2:28.4 minutes an hour to set a Class F amateur mark; Clinton Ferguson of Waban, Mass.; George Ward of Wilmington, Del.; and S. Mortimer Auerbach and Edison Hedges, both of Atlantic City.

Hubbell Blames Screw Ball

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 20 (AP)—Ailing Carl Hubbell, the New York Giants' master lefthander, arrived here by plane early today to see a specialist about his crippled pitching arm.

In seemingly good spirits, he joked with reporters at the airport and announced he would be examined later in the day by Dr. Justin Spencer Speed, bone specialist.

Hubbell reiterated previous statements that his arm hurt him only while pitching—a sharp pain on the inside of his left elbow.

Asked if his famed "screwball" had anything to do with his injury, he replied:

"Yes, you bet it has—after 16 years of pitching it."

The ace southpaw, who has pitched 11 years in the big time, said he never before had seen a physician about his arm, though he has taken electric heat treatments from time to time.

Drake Grid Star Drowning Victim

CHICAGO, Aug. 20 (INS)—Paul Behn, 23-year-old Drake University football player, was a drowning victim today. His strength gave out as he was attempting to swim from shore to a sailboat anchored 100 yards off shore in Lake Michigan.

A friend, Robert Fieroh, 22, made an heroic effort to rescue Behn but Fieroh's strength also gave out and he himself had to be rescued by a crew from the sailboat.

Ellsworth Vine's Scores Hole-in-One

DEL MONTE, Cal., Aug. 20 (AP)—Ellsworth Vine scored the first ace ever made on the 230-yard 16th hole at Cypress Point links yesterday—but had to take a deuce. The tennis star sailed his first ball into the ocean.

Watson Wins Three Events In Vienna

VIENNA, Aug. 20 (AP)—Pitt Watson, the husky University of Michigan all-around track and field star, hasn't looked so good competing against Germany's Olympic aces in the weight events, but he dazzled 2000 Viennese fans when he ran into some ordinary competition.

Watson won three events in yesterday's meet in which the touring United States tracksters took 10 out of 11 events from local talent. He broadjumped 24 feet 4 1/2 inches, threw the discus 153 feet 6 13-64 inches and put the shot 51 feet 5 21-64 inches.

The pole vaulter, however, proved even more exciting to the fans than Watson's feats as Cornelius Warmerdam of San Francisco sailed over the bar at 14 feet 1 inch. Paunzwinkel of Vienna could do no better than 12 feet 5 1/2 inches.

BEETHAM WINS
Americans ran one-two in two events as Charley Beetham of Columbus, O., beat his former Ohio State teammate, Harley Howells, 200 meters in 2:00.8 and Fred Wolcott and Jack Patterson, both of Rice Institute, showed the way in the 110-meter high hurdles.

Howells took the 400 meters; Patterson the 400-meter hurdles and Moez Ellerbe of Tuskegee the 100-meter dash for the other American individual victories. Then a United States relay team of Watson, Beetham, Wolcott and Ellerbe gave its Viennese rivals a 70-yard handicap and beat them in an 800-meter relay in 1:27.

The only local victory was scored by Muschik, who took the 5000 meters in 15:32.

ITALY IN PACT WITH VATICAN

ROME, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Fascist party today announced an agreement ending the recently growing friction between Fascism and Catholic Action, lay organization of the Catholic Church.

The Fascist party bulletin said that at a conference between Achille Starace, Fascist party secretary, and Marquess Lamberto Vignoli, president of the Italian Catholic Action central office, an agreement had been reached "to conform to the accords reached in 1931."

The 1931 accords ended an earlier dispute between Fascism and Catholic Action. The settlement that year permitted Catholic Action to function in Italy but limited its scope to purely religious and spiritual matters.

Catholic Action has been under attack recently by a part of the Fascist press.

Pope Pius on July 29 raised his voice against attacks on Catholic action.

"Who injures Catholic action injures the Pope, and who injures the Pope dies," L'Osservatore Romano, Vatican newspaper, quoted the Pontiff as saying.

The latter phrase was generally interpreted as meaning "dies spiritually."

Briton Shatters Half-Mile Record

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Sydney Wooderson, Britain's great middle distance runner, today bettered the world record for the half mile, covering the distance in one minute, 49.2 seconds in a special handicap race at London's Hopspar Park.

Wooderson, holder of the outdoor standard of 4:06.4 for the mile, clipped four-tenths of a second off the half-mile record of 1:49.6, established by Elroy Rohnson of San Francisco at New York July 11, 1937.

MRS. RUBY C. MAHOOD
Her Death a Mystery

Seize Body Of Woman In Vermont

CHELSEA, Vt., Aug. 20—Twenty minutes before her remains were due to arrive here today for burial the body of Mrs. Ruby Clark Mahood was ordered seized by police of Jarvis, N. Y.

The order revealed that Jarvis police were investigating the woman's death and the strangulation murder of her baby.

Police also revealed they are searching for a Brooklyn butcher believed to have been the sweetheart of Mrs. Mahood, a widow, who was once questioned in connection with the deaths of three infants.

Three years ago Mrs. Mahood was questioned in Brooklyn under the name of Ruby Clark in connection with the strangulation of three infants whose bodies were found in a trunk belonging to her.

She was later released, having convinced the authorities she had not seen the trunk in several months.

According to Sheriff O. E. Burgess, Mrs. Mahood moved from here 16 years ago with her parents.

Town Taxi Is Sued in Bankruptcy

Its 125 cabs still tied up by a drivers' strike, the Town Taxi corporation of Boston was petitioned into involuntary bankruptcy today by three creditors.

Sums represented by the creditors as due totalled $915.

Their petition, filed with the clerk of United States district court, alleged that Town Taxi, Inc., while insolvent, had transferred certain of its property with intent to favor other creditors.

Today's petitioners were Maurice Rubin, with a bill of $400 for telephone and light service; Arthur V. Grimes, seeking $400 for services as an accountant, and George H. Brown, with a bill for $115 for stationery and printing.

The drivers' strike which tied up Town Taxi's operations was called at 5 a. m. Wednesday, after the company had allegedly refused to continue an agreement establishing a 60-hour week, a minimum wage of $12.60 a week and 40 per cent commission on all fares.

Stocks Rise Sluggishly

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—Further faint rallying signs were present in today's stock market but rising vigor was lacking in most departments.

Motors, steels, rubbers and a few rails responded to quiet bidding with advances of fractions to around a point at the best, but these were down from the top at the close.

Failure?

Gloria Vanderbilt, for whose New York dress shop, operated by herself and twin sister, Thelma, creditors seek an involuntary bankruptcy petition.

Nazis Seek Ransom For Rothschild

LONDON, Aug. 20 (INS)—The London Daily Herald reported today that Nazi authorities, holding Baron Louis Rothschild prisoner in Vienna, rejected an offer of $500,000 as a "ransom."

According to the paper, the Nazis demanded a "much greater sum," and also demanded control of the Witkowitz works, largest industrial concern in Czechoslovakia.

An attractive young woman motorist and her mother were robbed of $160 today in North Attleboro by four highway bandits who forced their machine to the curb on the Providence turnpike.

The victims were Miss Virginia B. Smith of Riverway, Boston, and her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Smith of New York.

Pursuing along one of the state's heaviest travelled highways at a fast clip, the bandits forced the women's automobile to the curb, after shouting for them to draw over.

DEMAND MONEY

"This is a stickup," one youth told the daughter.

"Pass over your money quick."

After the younger woman passed over her purse the bandits, none of them apparently armed, ordered their victims to walk a short distance up the turnpike.

The bandit car then sped back in the direction of Providence while the women sped to the Wrentham State police barracks, where they reported the holdup.

FAIL TO PICK UP TRAIL

The daughter revealed the robbery was her second loss within a year. She said she had been robbed of a large sum of money in Washington, D. C., some time ago.

State police sped to the holdup scene but were unable to pick up the trail of the bandit machine. They believe the women were marked by the bandits when they stopped at a Providence restaurant to eat.
